ENVIRONMENTAL RACISM is GARBAGE

VIRTUAL RESEARCH-CREATION
& ART SYMPOSIUM

CODE OF CONDUCT

The Environmental Racism is Garbage Symposium (ERG) is dedicated to learning, intellectual inquiry, the dissemination and advancement of knowledge, personal and professional development, and good citizenship.

Participants are responsible individuals and members of society with rights and responsibilities as learners and citizens in the communities in which they learn and live.

Participants are expected to adhere to and promote the ERG's core values of honesty, trust, fairness, respect and personal responsibility in all aspects of the Symposium. It is these core values that are intended to inform and guide participant conduct as they foster mutual respect for the dignity and well-being of others.

Upon registering in for the ERG Symposium, every person enters into a contractual relationship with the ERG Symposium by which they accept and agree to be subject to this Code of Conduct.
